INSURANCE COVERAGE

Pre-Certification vs. Covered Benefit vs. Covered Payment:

Pre-certification is a requirement for most insurers, notifying them that a medical procedure is being scheduled. This gives them the opportunity to deny the procedure if they choose. Pre-certification of this procedure with your insurer will be performed by our office. Pre-certification does NOT determine that a medical procedure is a "covered benefit" under your particular policy. While your insurer may grant a "pre-approval" based on information submitted through our pre-certification, this is NOT a guarantee as to how much of the procedure will be paid for by your insurer, and how much will be due from you. Ultimate coverage of the procedure and payment due from the patient for these GI procedures are often not known until after the procedure is performed. A procedure that starts out as a routine screening may become a diagnostic procedure, and vice versa, depending on what the physician finds and does during the procedure. Therefore, we cannot tell you in advance, with certainty, whether your procedure will be considered a screening or a diagnostic procedure by your insurer, and ultimately how much the procedure may cost.

Your procedure will be performed using the services of an anesthesiologist who will bill your insurance for you. The anesthesia group is contracted with the majority of the same insurance plans as BMC.

** NOTIFY THE OFFICE immediately if you have had a bad experience with sedation.

*** Please call your insurance company with any questions you may have concerning coverage and payment. *****

Medicare patients: We do have benefit information available, but you may still need to call your secondary carrier. Medicare has very specific rules as to timing of the colonoscopy procedures. Please be sure yours will be a "covered benefit" by calling 1-800-MEDICARE.

If you wish to proceed with a test that is not a covered benefit, then you will be asked to sign a waiver accepting personal responsibility for payment.
